Dear Friends:

It is my pleasure to send greetings to everyone gathered for 2026's annual Southern Tier Try Trades event.

New York State is full of opportunities for young people, including many rewarding careers in the trades. Our communities have been built by generations of carpenters, electricians, masons, and other workers who take pride in their professions. Try Trades lets high school students gain first-hand experience in these fields, while exploring their post-graduation options.

Today, you gather to foster young peoples' interest in the trades as they imagine the futures they can build for themselves. On behalf of all New Yorkers, I am grateful for your dedication to workforce development in the next generation. Best wishes for an enjoyable and educational event.

Sincerely,

Dear Try Trades Attendees and Volunteers:

I would like to welcome you to the 2026 Try Trades Career Exploration Day. As Commissioner of the New York State Department of Labor, I am thrilled by how eager our future workforce is to learn about and explore new career opportunities through events like this.

The Try Trades Career Exploration Day provides students with invaluable insight into the construction industry and the trades that work within it. They will have the chance to gain hands-on experience, learn about exciting opportunities in their fields of interest, and engage with employers and industry experts.

This event is also an opportunity for Southern Tier businesses, labor unions, and other industry leaders to educate young people about the many options available to them before they choose a career path.

I extend my sincere gratitude to everyone involved in making the 2026 Try Trades Career Exploration Day a success. Your dedication is crucial to building a strong labor workforce in the Southern Tier and across New York State, and I thank you for efforts in helping our communities thrive.

Sincerely,

Greetings Try Trades Attendees -

I write to welcome you and thank you for your participation in the Try Trades event, which seeks to provide an engaging experience for you to increase your awareness of and interest in rewarding, high-growth career opportunities in skilled trades in our region.

By providing direct experience with heavy equipment, tools, and professional techniques, this career exploration event allows students to "try" various skilled trades—such as construction, utilities, and manufacturing—before committing to a specific career path. This exposure helps demystify technical fields and encourages young people to consider in-demand, high-paying jobs that make significant contributions to improving the quality of life in our region.

Participants can network with local employers, union representatives, and apprenticeship coordinators, gaining firsthand knowledge about the entry requirements for New York State Registered Apprenticeship programs. These interactions often bridge the gap between education and employment, providing students with a clear "graduation pathway" that meets New York State Regents standards while developing essential employability skills and work ethics.

I hope you enjoy the event and end the day with a better understanding of the rewarding opportunities that pursuing a career in the skilled trade offers.

Best wishes to you in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Dear Try Trades Attendees,

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to the 2026 Try Trades Career Day and thank you for taking the time to attend the event. You are taking part in a fantastic event that will provide you with the chance to see firsthand the numerous careers at your fingertips.

While attending Try Trades you will be able to take part in heavy equipment operating, welding, construction, surveying, engineering, CADD operating and more. You will have a chance to network with local employers, apprenticeship coordinators, union representatives, and others that will provide information about the requirements for their programs and give you the direct experience that will help determine your interest level as well as give you a more in depth understanding of the requirements needed to meet New York State Regents standards.

All across our region, employers are looking for individuals to join their profession to meet the demands of building and maintaining our infrastructure. Your attendance at Try Trades will help shape your future and give you the chance to see if you want be part of the team that builds and maintains the very infrastructure we depend on daily.

I hope that you have a great time at this event and leave with a positive experience that provides you with better understanding of the vast career opportunities available to you.

My very best wishes for a great day and a successful future.

Dear Friends,

I wanted to take this opportunity to welcome you to the 2026 Try Trades event and thank all the students who are participating today.

During Try Trades, you will get an opportunity to explore careers in construction, manufacturing and the skilled trades to see if they might be right for you.

Across our region and all of New York State, employers are looking for welders, heavy equipment operators, construction workers and other skilled-trades professionals. These are highly technical, high-paying and rewarding careers.

During Try Trades you'll get the chance to try out equipment and tools, gaining invaluable hands-on experience. You will be also able to talk to construction and skilled-trades professionals to see if these careers could be right for you and meet local employers, union leaders and apprenticeship coordinators who can help you chart a path from school to employment.

I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to the Try Trades organizers, business owners and professionals who are sharing their expertise with students today.

Please accept my best wishes. I wish you all the best in your future endeavors. Do not hesitate to contact me if I may be of assistance in the future.

Greetings Try Trades Attendees,

Welcome to the Try Trades event at the Town of Big Flats Municipal Campus. Thank you for participating in this hands-on career exploration opportunity in the Southern Tier.

Chemung County values its skilled trades professionals. Our staff are available today to answer your questions and assist with applications for current job openings. These careers provide stable employment, competitive wages, and opportunities for long-term growth while serving your community.

Our region needs young people who are ready to build, maintain, and improve the infrastructure and services that make the Southern Tier a great place to live. I encourage you to consider staying in the area after graduation and using your skills to support the future of our towns and counties.

Take time today to ask questions, explore your interests, and connect with employers, unions, and training coordinators. The decisions you make now can lead to a rewarding career with real impact.

I wish you success as you explore your options and take the next steps toward your future.

Sincerely,

Christopher Moss

10 CORE SKILLS Tradespeople Need to Advance Their Careers

In today's competitive job market, tradespeople require more than technical expertise to succeed.

These ten essential skills can help propel careers forward:

Customer Service Management

Understanding client needs and expectations is key. Patience, clear explanations, and good manners enhance customer satisfaction. Leveraging service management software can help streamline scheduling, payments, and follow-ups.

Communication

Strong verbal and written communication skills allow tradespeople to articulate ideas, discuss job details, and clarify technical issues. Active listening fosters teamwork and builds positive relationships with colleagues and clients.

Ambition

A drive for success pushes tradespeople to seek new opportunities, enhance skills, and pursue certifications. Continuous self-improvement and taking on challenges are often recognized and rewarded within the industry.

Problem-Solving

Tradespeople frequently face unexpected challenges. The ability to assess problems, think quickly, and implement effective solutions increases efficiency and enhances reputation. Preventative strategies are equally valuable.

Time Management

Balancing multiple tasks and deadlines is essential. Prioritizing work improves productivity, reduces stress, and demonstrates professionalism, making tradespeople more reliable and promotable.

Financial Management

Understanding budgets, cost estimation, and invoicing is crucial. For those considering business ownership, financial literacy helps ensure profitability and long-term success.

Leadership

Supervising tasks, mentoring team members, and setting quality standards build respect and open doors to managerial roles. Leadership skills enhance teamwork and workplace efficiency.

Teamwork

Collaboration is essential for efficiency, productivity, and a positive work environment. Strong teamwork skills contribute to career growth by demonstrating reliability and cooperation.

Flexibility and Adaptability

Tradespeople must adjust to new technologies, work environments, and industry regulations. Embracing change showcases resilience and keeps skills relevant.

Professionalism

Punctuality, commitment to quality, adherence to safety standards, and respect for colleagues and clients enhance credibility and career prospects.

Mastering these soft skills helps tradespeople stand out, build strong professional relationships, and advance in their careers.
